Millionaires Poor Stomach.

The worn-out stomach of the over-fed millionaire is often paraded in the public prints as a horrible example of the evils attendant on the possession of great wealth. But millionaires are not the only ones who are afflicted with bad stomachs. The proportion is far greater among the toilers. Dyspepsia and indigestion are rampant among these people, and they suffer far worse tortures than the millionaires unless they avail themselves of a standard medicine like Green's August Flower, which has been a favorite household remedy for all stomach troubles for over thirty years. August Flower rouses the torpid liver, thus creating appetite and insuring perfect digestion. It tones and vitalizes the entire system and makes life worth living, no matter what your station. Trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.—W. T. Brooks.

—Dr. George S. Savage, now residing in Winchester, is one of the best known men in Kentucky, in our own church and in others. For years, after giving up his school at Millersburg, he traveled the entire State in the interest of the Bible cause, and collected thousands of dollars for it. His tall, erect form and other distinctive personal features, as his great earnestness in the cause of the Bible, will not soon be forgotten by those who once knew him and learned to love him. He is ninety-one years of age, will be ninety-one in March, and is as much interested in the Bible cause and the general work of the church as ever. His home, as it has been for years, is with his daughter, Mrs. Nora Brooks and he does not want for any of the comforts of life.—Central Methodist.

Kenney & Son to the great sire, Jay Bird: Keepsake (dam of Tommy Britton, 2:06½ and three others) by Pancost; Lady Clay (dam of Patchen Boy (3) 2:10½ and C. W. M. 2:24½) by Metropolitan 1873; Jay Bells (dam of Belle Parks 2:23½) by Dictator 113; Polly Bates (3) 2:32, half-sister of Jean Ingelow 2:11½, by St. Just 4780 and another mare by Kingward, dam Lucy Cooper 2:26 by Favorite Wilkes; second dam Lucy Moore, dam of Sterling Wilkes.

—James B. Haggin has leased 1,000 acres of the Woodburn farm of the late A. J. Alexander from Mrs. Edward Simms, one of the heirs of the estate, and will use them as an adjunct to Elmendorf in his extensive thoroughbred breeding operations. Mr. Haggin first made an effort to purchase the whole 3,200 acres of the farm, but this proving futile, offered to lease it. Mrs. Simms was the only one of the heirs who would entertain such a proposition, and so the contract was made for her portion alone. Several hundred of the Haggin horses are now quartered on the farm, and others will be sent there.

The news comes from Washington that the Republicans have abandoned Kentucky and will regard it hereafter as a Democratic State. The management, or rather mis-management of the party's affairs in this State is a source of disappointment to the administration.

HERE'S a problem that lays Ann's age in the shade. If Johnny Jones has seven dogs and every dog is white, and fourteen cats came chasing 'round, each one as black as night, and each two cats has eighteen lives less three destroyed by rats—how many lives must three dogs take before they kill eight cats?

The Breeders Protective Association of Kentucky, has this fall bought 175 mares and fillies which it has put out of the breeding business. The organization has been established five years, and during that time has sent 691 mares out of the breeding business. This is done by buying up mares with poor breeding records, destroying all evidences of their identity, and shipping them to distant cities, where they are sold for work horses, and all trace of their pedigrees lost.
